

Cathay Pacific announces details of new Haneda service

Last updated 06 Jul 2010

Cathay Pacific Airways today announced it will commence a twice-daily service to Tokyo's Haneda Airport on 31 October in addition to continuing to serve Narita International Airport.

Cathay Pacific Chief Executive Tony Tyler said: "To resume operations to Haneda Airport has been a longstanding wish for Cathay Pacific and we believe this new service will make Tokyo an even more popular destination for Hong Kong people. We will now provide more flights to and from Japan's capital, offering more convenience for passengers and helping to develop further Hong Kong's position as a leading international aviation hub."

With the launch of the twice-daily service to Haneda, the airline's flights to Tokyo will increase to seven a day from the current six. The Narita frequency will be adjusted to five flights a day – four non-stop and one via Taipei. CX524 has been retimed to offer more choice to travellers from Hong Kong. Full details are as follows:

HANEDA (HND)

- Twice-daily service from 31 October 2010
- Aircraft type: Airbus A330-300/Boeing 747-400

Flight no.	From	To	Departure/Arrival	Days of operation
CX548	HKG	HND	0830/1325	Daily
CX542	HKG	HND	1605/2105	Daily
CX543	HND	HKG	1045/1500	Daily from 1 Nov
CX549	HND	HKG	1625/2040	Daily

NARITA (NRT)

- Five flights a day from 31 October 2010
- Aircraft type: Airbus A330-300/Boeing 777-300

Flight no.	From	To	Departure/Arrival	Days of operation
CX504	HKG	NRT	0905/1410	Daily
CX450	HKG	NRT	1005/1655	Daily (via TPE)
CX520	HKG	NRT	1020/1520	Daily
CX500	HKG	NRT	1520/2020	Daily
CX524	HKG	NRT	0105/0600	Daily from 1 Nov
CX509	NRT	HKG	0915/1325	Daily
CX501	NRT	HKG	1045/1505	Daily
CX451	NRT	HKG	1530/2130	Daily (via TPE)
CX521	NRT	HKG	1620/2035	Daily
CX505	NRT	HKG	1820/2235	Daily

(All times local)

Cathay Pacific Airways today announced it will commence a twice-daily service to Tokyo's Haneda Airport on 31 October in addition to continuing to serve Narita International Airport.

Cathay Pacific Chief Executive Tony Tyler said: "To resume operations to Haneda Airport has been a longstanding wish for Cathay Pacific and we believe this new service will make Tokyo an even more popular destination for Hong Kong people. We will now provide more flights to and from Japan's capital, offering more convenience for passengers and helping to develop further Hong Kong's position as a leading international aviation hub."

With the launch of the twice-daily service to Haneda, the airline's flights to Tokyo will increase to seven a day from the current six. The Narita frequency will be adjusted to five flights a day – four non-stop and one via Taipei. CX524 has been retimed to offer more choice to travellers from Hong Kong. Full details are as follows:

HANEDA (HND)

Twice-daily service from 31 October 2010

Aircraft type: Airbus A330-300/Boeing 747-400

<table class=zebra_table width=60% cellpadding=5 cellspacing=0>

<thead>

Flight no.	From	To	Departure/Arrival	Days of operation
CX548	HKG	HND	0830/1325	Daily
CX542	HKG	HND	1605/2105	Daily
CX543	HND	HKG	1045/1500	Daily from 1 Nov
CX549	HND	HKG	1625/2040	Daily

NARITA (NRT)

- Five flights a day from 31 October 2010
- Aircraft type: Airbus A330-300/Boeing 777-300

Flight no.	From	To	Departure/Arrival	Days of operation
CX504	HKG	NRT	0905/1410	Daily
CX450	HKG	NRT	1005/1655	Daily (via TPE)
CX520	HKG	NRT	1020/1520	Daily
CX500	HKG	NRT	1520/2020	Daily
CX524	HKG	NRT	0105/0600	Daily
CX509	NRT	HKG	0915/1325	Daily
CX501	NRT	HKG	1045/1505	Daily

```
<tr>
<td>CX451</td><td>NRT</td><td>HKG</td><td>1530/2130</td><td>Daily (via TPE)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CX521</td><td>NRT</td><td>HKG</td><td>1620/2035</td><td>Daily</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CX505</td><td>NRT</td><td>HKG</td><td>1820/2235</td><td>Daily</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(All times local)
```